As 2023 draws to an end, it is quite natural to count our blessings and take time to reflect on what we have lived through, what we have done, our successes, and our failures.

What a great feeling to have in-person events, hunters traveling and a real handshake. We are certainly appreciating things that we formerly took for granted. Things are starting to look normal again.

Jannie Otto Safaris strives for excellence in all our interactions, no matter what life throws at us. We continue to be grateful for the strong support we have received from all our clients and friends. I am constantly impressed by the Jannie Otto Safaris team's performance. A reliable team is the best gift an Outfitter can ask for. Thank you for being someone I can rely on. Thank you for your hard work!

Time outdoors – in the sun, in the wild- is good for the body and soul. Make it happen!

*I wish for you to find the fight to focus on what's important
To look inside and be true to yourself
To treasure the present moment and all those in it
To find happiness within
And to connect with Mother Nature while doing all of this

Africa is hard, yet it holds a rugged beauty which is more breathtaking than anything painstakingly sculpted or painted or designed and crafted by human hand. The continent lives through its people, its vegetation, its wildlife, its heritage, its heat, and its harmonies.

With Jannie Otto safaris, hunting is a part of a greater conservation plan that is managed and controlled. Through respect for wildlife and some 42 years of experience and subsequently developed skill, African ecology is preserved and nurtured, and all hunts ultimately give life back to the land. All inhabitants of the habitat benefit. It's a cyclical win/win and ethical process.

South African Anthem

Red soil. Giant Baobabs, their roots bared. Breathless days without a cloud in the sky. Inquisitive baboons mischievously lurking in the hope of a scrap or two. Coy, toothy grins from the locals. Nights lit up with swarms of fireflies. Coarse, knee-length grass that pricks the skin. Bountiful bowls of plump, colourful fruit. Darting eyes of a tiny dassie. Zebra lazily swishing their tails. The mournful look of a waterbuck. The majesty of an elephant herd camped near a gently flowing river. The tightness of having the sun in your face. The relaxation of being grubby. The wonder at the tales that are told. Lighting that electrifies the sky. The annoying buzz of the omnipresent mosquito. Intricate tribal designs manifested on homes, garments and in beadwork. Coffee from a tin mug. That amazing taste of a traditional boma dinner after a hard day in the bush. The fresh taste of ice-cold water when you've had enough of the heat. The simplicity of the feel of real cotton on canopied beds. The freedom of time to read under an acacia tree at dusk...

Welcome to our world... welcome to Africa

*The best of Southern Africa!
Tailored to fit your unique preferences*

From the banks of the mighty Zambezi, through the unspoiled lushness of Mozambique or Tanzania to the expansive plains of South Africa, take time to taste what feels like a bygone era with Jannie Otto Safaris.

Known as a gracious host and superlative hunter, Jannie's knowledge, compassion, and oneness with the wilderness ensure that a hunting safari turns into the experience of a lifetime in secure, elegant luxury particularly suited to the expedition of your choice.

“ Africa is at a turning point. We must make sure that the few isolated patches of wilderness remain intact for future generations. They are part of the complex web of life that has nurtured humankind and allowed us to become what we are today. Their potential loss is a threat to us and a threat to our planet's future.

Nick Greaves

True African hospitality

Each of our hunting areas is complimented by a wonderful safari camp. Every camp offers its own splendour and true African ambience. Personalised hospitality awaits you from the moment your journey to Africa begins whether it be in your heart, your mind's eye or as you board the plane.

“ To go slowly is one of the great needs in life.

Laurens van der Post

Becoming in-tune with nature is not a hurried process. And within the minimum 7-day long safari, where you'll experience the early morning or late afternoon tracking a specific specie, you will also learn to hear the call of the wild, to appreciate the smell of longed-for rain and feel the love of mother humming in the kitchen. Because life here remains colonially splendid, untouched by the hustle and bustle of city life.

MOZAMBIQUE

Popular safaris

Experience an off-the-grid hunting safari in Mozambique where luxury in untouched concessions. Mozambique offers a hunting experience that embodies the atmosphere of a true African safari. A spirit of adventure, excitement, company, and a zest for adventure in a wildlife-rich environment we call paradise.

“ Several lions roaring in unison will make the whole air in their immediate vicinity vibrate and tremble, and I know of nothing more awe-inspiring on a dark night; more calculated to make a mere man feel nervous. Frederick Courtney Selous

Imagine being escorted back to camp, triumphant in your hunt, with trackers, through soulful song, announcing your achievements to people and villages along the way.

Imagine being lifted by a ululating crowd who share in your victory; who exalt and praise you for your accomplishment which could only have occurred due to your amazing dexterity, skill and power.

Imagine, then, quietly moving to the tranquility and seclusion of your room to indulge in your own recollection and afterwards sharing the experience around a roaring log fire, as the African sun sets in all magenta and ochre glory, with the small group within your party and team.

It's a full moon, you can hear the cackle of the hyena, you're weary, yet immensely fulfilled. All is good with the world.
