

Discover the Serene Beauty of

Uganda's Southwest

Nestled in the heart of the Great Lakes of Africa, Uganda has emerged to offer a tranquil haven for passionate hunters seeking an authentic African experience. In the southwest, on the shores of the magnificent Lake Mburo, lies an exceptional hunting paradise.

Unlike many other African countries, Uganda allows its wildlife to mature, providing sport hunters with the opportunity to pursue only the largest and oldest specimens. In this vast expanse, the stress of failing to find desired trophies is non-existent. Daytime excursions are peaceful, with our guides committed to selecting only the finest animals. While hunting the Nile buffalo may require additional physical effort and composure, leopards are systematically hunted in broad daylight at natural "kills" or bait sites. Additionally, our organization maintains a network of carefully crafted pathsthrough papyrus marshes, offering an exhilarating and refined sitatunga hunting experience.

Savour the delicious cuisine at Mbuero, featuring fresh market produce, freshwater fish, and healthy bush meat, all with a diverse and largely Indian-inspired flair.

Nestled alongside Lake Mbuero, our accommodation offers four spacious tents on terraces and stilts, reflecting the traditional East African style. Each tent is equipped with a private bathroom providing hot water, while a magnificent straw hut serves as our bar and restaurant.
